Building an inclusive community

Where we came from

In 1971, Cosmopolitan Industries was created as a new way of caring – a place where the differently-abled could work and find purpose in our own community.

Today, we offer so much more

Our programs continually grow and expand to ensure each participant has a full and rich life. From popular community based programs to offering a variety of business services, the choices are abundant.

Our People Thrive

What does an individual need? For some, it's a vocational experience. For others, it's enrichment of the spirit.

We customize our programs to meet the needs of each individual, encouraging them towards full participation in the community.

We are committed to showcasing each person's abilities and interests. We look at people as individuals, and help find what they love, and what they thrive upon. It is a very person-centered approach.

Cosmo is known as the “miracle on 34th street.”

Cosmo's motto is “Opportunity Lives Here.” Participants make friends, learn new skills and are involved in the community. Our day programs ensure that individuals with disabilities have a safe space and are not at risk of marginalization. We advocate for participants, and ensure they have a voice.

Social Enterprise

As pioneers of recycling and the first local company to shred documents for businesses in Saskatoon, Cosmo has a history of innovation. Focusing on the capabilities of participants, Cosmo provides ongoing coaching and collaboration to enable persons with intellectual disabilities to succeed in community workplaces.

Emerging Needs

Cosmo's first participants are now aging, requiring supplemental assistance. In addition, new participants often enter Cosmo with a wide range of unique needs.

Our staff has the expertise to provide the necessary supports to meet these increasing challenges.

Children, Youth and Families

By 22 years of age, students must leave the school system. For many with disabilities, Cosmo is the place where they will build independence and self esteem as adults.

Family is important to Cosmo. Their input is integral to our future. In addition, day programs enable parents to stay in the workforce while knowing that their family will flourish.
